

16. They shall allow such overseer or keeper such salary or compensation for his services as they shall deem reasonable.

17. They shall require such overseer or keeper, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, to enter into a bond with security by them approved, payable to the trustees, in the penalty of one thousand dollars, conditioned as follows, to wit: The condition of the above obligation is such, that if the above bound A. B., as overseer or keeper of the alms or poor house in Frederick county, and manager of the farm connected therewith, shall well and truly discharge his duties in said station, then the above obligation to be void, otherwise to remain in full force and virtue in law."

18. They shall, at their first meeting in February, in each year, appoint one of their own members treasurer of the trustees for the poor, who shall collect and receive all moneys appropriated for the use and benefit of the alms-house, by the county commissioners, and all sums of money arising from the sale of the produce raised on the farm connected with the alms-house, or due and coming to the trustees from any other source.

19. The said treasurer, before entering upon the discharge of his duties, shall execute a bond payable to the trustees for the poor, with sufficient securities approved by them in the penal sum of six thousand dollars, conditioned as follows, to wit: "The condition of the above obligation is such, that if the above bound A. B. shall well and faithfully discharge the duties of treasurer of the trustees for the poor, and shall well and faithfully account for all moneys that shall come into his hands as treasurer, and pay over the said moneys to the person or persons legally authorized to receive the same, then the above obligation to be void, otherwise to be and remain in full force and virtue in law."

20. The said treasurer shall not pay out any of the funds that shall come into his hands, unless upon the written order of the overseer or keeper of said alms-house, by order of the trustees for the poor, or to his successor in office, by order of the succeeding trustees, and he shall produce before the trustees for the poor, to be examined by them at every meeting they shall hold, his book of accounts.

21. He shall render to the trustees, at their last meeting during each year, a statement of his accounts, under oath, and all
